WHAT IS ÖBAK

The Student Scientific Research Club (SSRC, ÖBAK is the Turkish abbreviation for the initials of Student Scientific Research Club.), founded in 1984, is the first scientific student society in Turkey.

Our mission is to encourage medical students at Istanbul Faculty of Medicine to take part in scientific and academic research, while also keeping them updated on the latest medical developments through our annual international congress.

In fact, ÖBAK organized the world's first international congress for medical students (IMSSC) and has carried on this proud tradition for 40 years, with 28 congresses and countless scientific projects involving student participation.

IMSSC 29TH

WHAT IS IMSSC

The International Medical Sciences Student Congress (IMSSC) has been organized by ÖBAK every year since 1987, with the support of volunteer students and faculty members of Istanbul Faculty of Medicine.

Each year, the congress welcomes 500–800 participants from 20–30 countries.

The very first national congress took place in 1985, followed by the first international medical student congress in the world in 1987, hosted by ÖBAK. This event holds special value both for our faculty and for Turkey as a whole.
